Sail Camp Rules

Parents are asked to go over these rules with their children and to help enforce them (especially the no-wading rule).

1. The first rule of sailing: give assistance! If another sailor is in trouble, get an adult's attention by yelling, waving or blowing your whistle. Stay with the other boat until assistance is on its way. Do not endanger yourself to help someone else! That means no jumping into the water to help!
2. Lifejackets must be worn whenever on the docks or in boats.
3. Whistles must be worn at all times when on the water, and may be blown only in an emergency. The signal for an emergency is 3 blasts on a whistle.
4. Footgear must be worn at all times, both on land and in the water.
5. Collisions on the water must be avoided at all times. Remember: "Tiller toward trouble!"
6. Sailors are expected to help rig & derig their boats, to help put boats into the water & pull them out, and to put their sails & equipment away in "ship-shape" condition each day.
7. No swimming or wading are allowed at the docks or launch area (Moraine State Park rules).
